

DROPS DEAD WHILE WAITING FOR TRAIN

THOMAS CUNNINGHAM DIES AT CONCEPTION JCT.

ON WAY TO PARNELL

Left Maryville This Morning and Was in Produce House When He Succumbed—Is Pioneer Resident.

Thomas Cunningham, 65 years, dropped dead in the Vogt produce house at Conception Junction about 11 o'clock this morning. Mr. Cunningham had left Maryville on the Wabash passenger train No. 12 and was on his way to Parnell. While waiting for his train at Conception Junction for Parnell, Mr. Cunningham stopped in the produce house to visit and died at once.

The body will be brought to Maryville this evening and funeral arrangements will not be made until word is received from his daughter, Mrs. Hazel McAlliff at Craigville, Alberta, Canada.

Mr. Cunningham was born in Kilar, County Donegal, Ireland. He came to this country in about 1870 and located in Maryville in about 1872. He sold goods all over the country, traveling with a pack. He was married to Miss Bridgett Gallagher. Her death occurred about twenty-five years ago. She was a sister of John, Felix and Ed Gallagher, living east of town. Mr. Cunningham is survived by a daughter, Mrs. McAlliff.

Mr. Cunningham had just returned several days ago from a trip of about three months with his daughter in Canada and also from a sight-seeing tour there. He had been in bad health the past two years.

Two Faculty Members Return From Europe

Miss Beatrix Winn and Miss Mattie Dykes Attended Convention of University Women in Norway.

Miss Beatrix Winn and Miss Mattie Dykes of the College faculty arrived in Maryville this morning after spending several months in Europe. They landed in New York the early part of last week. Miss Winn sailed about a year ago for Europe and was joined this spring by Miss Dykes.

Miss Winn and Miss Dykes were two of nine Missouri women to attend the convention of the International Federation of University Women, which was held in Christiania, Norway, July 28 to August 6.

Before returning to America, Miss Winn and Miss Dykes visited in a number of European countries. They attended the University of London for some time, and specialized in English.

Water Makes a Good Test at College Lab.

Is Becoming Free of the Taste and Odor That Was So Noticeable Last Week.

The chemists at the College in making the last weekly test of the city water, on September 4, pronounced that it made a most satisfactory, according to the results of the test.

It was pronounced to have no gas, no acid and only sixty-five bacteria count per cubic centimeter, which is a low count. J. W. Qualls, superintendent of the City Water Department, said this morning. This is the second test, since the water has been tested every week at the College laboratory, that has reached the count of sixty-five bacteria to a cubic centimeter. All the other tests made in the last eight months have been below thirty and some as low as twenty.

Mr. Qualls said this morning that the water is being rid of the odor and taste that was noticeable last week. The water in the reservoirs is being aerated by the winds that stir the water and keeps it from being stale. The water now used is being pumped direct from the river but it takes a little time for the water in the pipes to clear up, Mr. Qualls said.

To Wentworth Military Academy.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jackson and their son, Joseph Jackson, III, will leave tomorrow morning for Lexington, Mo., where the latter will enter the Wentworth Military Academy. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson will return to Maryville Wednesday and will be accompanied home by the former's sister, Mrs. Paul Ream of Kansas City, for a visit.

Dr. Keller Delivers 99 Addresses in Year

Approximately 36,000 Persons in Attendance—Does Not Include Weekly Lectures to College Bible Class

Ninety-nine addresses have been delivered by Dr. Fred Keller of the State Teachers College faculty during the last year, he said this morning. This does not include his weekly addresses to his College Bible class at the Christian Church. These addresses have been delivered at various programs—church, community, commencement and others. Dr. Keller delivered fifteen high school commencement addresses this last spring. He received a number of other requests which he was unable to fill.

Yesterday morning Dr. Keller went to Corning, Mo., to deliver an address at the close of a three-day homecoming program, and last night he and W. E. Goforth made talks at the Blockton, Ia., Christian Church.

TILLERS OF LAND MUST HAVE LIVING

TARIFF CAN NO LONGER DELUGE FARM POPULATION.

SCORES FOREIGN POLICY

"Administration Cannot Claim Credit For Dawes Plan When It Would Not Accept Responsibility."

Omaha, Nebr., Sept. 8.—Honesty in government—such honesty as will reach down through every nook and cranny of the governing structure and see that every man has a square deal was the central theme of the speech on agriculture delivered by John W. Davis, democratic nominee for the presidency here Saturday night.

Heard by Record Throng.

His speech was heard by the largest crowd that ever gathered at the Omaha auditorium for a political rally. It was announced by radio before the speaking began that the crowd numbered more than 8 thousand persons. The huge throng occupied all available space in the huge structure and overflowed into the streets. More than 2 thousand occupied the seats reserved for people from other sections of Nebraska and from Iowa.

The candidate, though declaring he had not been a farmer himself, said he had lived in a rural community for many years and gave this means for relief of present distressing conditions.

By honesty in government, he told his audience he meant the enactment and enforcement of such laws as will help those who have suffered. He declared further that he was not so sure that honest enforcement of some laws that now exist would not go far to help conditions.

"The problem is," he declared "is the last analysis, not one of statistics, but of human lives."

"There is no duty which the government can be called upon to perform more pressing or more sacred than to so organize the economic life of America that American citizens can earn on their farms a living in keeping with American needs and American traditions."

Readjust the Balance.

"The policy of the democratic party," he said a little farther on, is to readjust the balance and put agriculture where it belongs—on an equality with industry."

Mr. Davis touched upon the unjust method of deflation whereby the west had been made to suffer so severely. He showed how the price parity between the farmer, products and industry had caused untold hardship. Such tactics, he said did not in his mind speak of honest government.

The tariff, Mr. Davis charged was used to delude the farmer. "Surely the day when the farmer can be lulled to rest by a nominal tariff on the commodities of which he has a surplus to sell abroad has passed forever."

He scored the foreign policy of the United States under the Republican administration. "It is a reproach to the collective wisdom of mankind," he said, "that each year since 1920 there have been from one to two hundred million people in Europe underfed and undernourished and other millions literally starving while during the same period America's storehouses of food stuffs and raw materials have been vainly seeking a market at reasonable prices."

Far from obtaining any capital from the adoption of the Dawes report, Mr. Davis charged it laid a crushing blow upon this country that the good effect if any from it have been delayed so long.

Scores Proposed Relief Plan.

Mr. Davis scored the proposed relief for the farmer through commissions. The system has been tried he said, and through numerous delays, it has brought no results. The farmer will refuse to be longer fooled, he asserted.

Presenting the democratic plan for farmer relief as set out in the party platform, Mr. Davis called attention to the fact that it was made up both of administration and legislation.

"According to my view," he said, "the responsibility for providing such an administration rests upon the shoulders of him who is chosen to be president of the United States."

"It is his business," he declared, "when mistakes in selection are made, to be prompt in their correction. He need not wait for congressional committees or grand juries to point them out; nor can he or the party that he leads escape responsibility on the plea of general good character or fair intent. It is his business to give the people a government honest all the way through."

DAVIS WILL MAKE FURTHER ATTACKS

"HONESTY IN GOVERNMENT" IS PARAMOUNT.

TO STUDY PROBLEMS

Democratic Candidate Greeted Far West With Demand for "Blocless Government," Serving All Alike.

Denver, Sept. 8.—John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee reached here today to study at first hand problems of the mountain West before offering to the nation his personal program of conservation and reclamation.

Davis greeted the far West with the demand for a "blocless government," serving all citizens alike, and the declaration that he would continue to make "honesty in government" his paramount issue.

"I came here more to learn than to teach," Davis said. "I want to mingle with the people of the West to find out their problems and inform myself about the things they expect from their government."

"What we need in this country is a government that is honest from the ground up and that is not directed in the interest of any particular part of the United States. This government has been dominated for fifty years past, with the exception of the Democratic administrations, by an industrial bloc that has managed the policies of the nation for its own peculiar interests. I want the day to come when no bloc will control this government and when it will be run in the interest of us all alike."

Davis left this afternoon for Rocky Mountain National Park, sixty miles northeast of here, to spend three days in seclusion writing his set speech to be delivered in the Denver auditorium on the night of September 11 and at Cheyenne, Wyo., on September 12.

It was learned definitely here that Mr. Davis will devote part of each speech to further criticisms of the agricultural program proposed by Charles G. Dawes, Republican vice-presidential candidate. Davis has decided, it was said, to treat the Dawes speech as an official pronouncement from the Republican administration.

Senator Key Pittman of Nevada, who is directing the Davis itinerary in the West, announced the Democratic standard bearer would make issues out of Dawes' declarations for the abandonment of all reclamation projects as a cure for agricultural ills.

Will Attend Meeting at Jeff. City Tuesday

George Robb Ellison left last night via St. Louis for Jefferson City to attend the organization meeting of the Democratic State Committee to be held tomorrow in Jefferson City. Mr. Ellison is a member of the state committee from the fourth congressional district.

At this meeting, the officers of the committee will be chosen. Joshua Barbee of Kansas City is slated for chairmanship of the Democratic committee.

Nominees of the Democratic party for state, congressional, judicial and legislative offices will meet in Jefferson City tomorrow with the members of the state committee for the task of drafting the state platform. The consensus of opinion of Democratic leaders and nominees who attended a preliminary conference at Jefferson City last Thursday was that the Klan would be denounced by name. Other planks to be presented to the Democratic convention for incorporation in the platform will deal with problems of the farmers, advocating reduced taxation, economy in government and good roads.

Will F. Phares, a member of the Republican State Committee, left last evening for Jefferson City to attend a meeting of the Republican state committee and candidates for the purpose of organizing the committee as well as to draft the state platform. On the eve of the convention the question of selecting a chairman for the Republican state committee apparently overshadows the fitting together of a Republican platform.

GEORGE BAKER AUTO IS FOUND YESTERDAY

Whether fate played against him or was his friend is the question that Francis Cummins is debating. Last Friday Francis Cummins drove George Baker's Jewett car to St. Joseph.

About 7 o'clock Saturday night it was stolen, or disappeared from its parking place. The St. Joseph police were notified.

Cummins did not need their assistance, as about 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon he found the car parked along the curb on a St. Joseph street. Joyriders had evidently taken the car for a spin.

U. S. FLYERS LAND AT MITCHELL FIELD

MORE THAN 5,000 PERSONS THERE To Welcome Them.

GIVEN GREAT OVATION

Military Band Plays "Stars and Stripes Forever" As Planes Hover Over Flying Field.

Mitchell Field, N. Y., Sept. 8.—The three around-the-world flyers, accompanied by an escort of thirteen airplanes, arrived here at 3:43 o'clock this afternoon from Boston where they hopped off at noon.

More than 5,000 persons were here to welcome them, including His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales, and General Pershing.

The military band in the grandstand started playing, "Stars and Stripes Forever" as the planes hovered over the flying field preparatory to landing.

It is doubtful if the world flyers ever had such an audience as that which witnessed their arrival in New York. Every vantage point in the metropolis and its environs an hour before the flyers sped like sparrows into the city.

SPREADING THE BIBLE.

A statement by Dr. John H. Ritson, secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society, conveys the information that there are people speaking 1,000 different languages who have not yet had the Bible translated into their mother tongue. He further states that a great corps of translators is constantly at work engaged in making the Bible available to users of these thus far neglected tongues.

Dr. Ritson is engaged in a commendable work. In addition to the good which Christian people believe a better knowledge of the Bible will do those not now acquainted with it there is the value of the Bible from an educational standpoint to be considered. Translating the Bible into various dialects of these little known peoples will do much to standardize their language and make intercourse with them vastly easier. The only doubt which comes to mind is whether it would not be better to work for the further spread of a universal tongue, or pending the day when that is devised, to work for the spread of some of the more widely used languages in order that these tribes may read the Bible in English, French or German rather than in their native tongue.

SHUTTING OFF NEWS.

The Chicago Tribune recently expressed the opinion that too much publicity to crimes and persons accused but untried is being given by the American press. The paper suggested the enactment of laws limiting the freedom of the press in such instances and forbidding publications making more than a very brief mention of the crime until the person accused has been haled into court.

The proposal is not new and it has been studied by foremost journalists the country over for years. These journalists even have gone so far as to sound out newspaper sentiment in the matter. The result has been an overwhelming opinion that the present method of full publicity is best, not from the standpoint of feeding the great maw of news, but because it brings before the public the flaws in our present system of jurisprudence which otherwise would be passed by unnoticed.

Eminent American lawyers and jurists admit that criminal procedure in this country is badly in need of a radical shaking up. There is, apparently, too much fear on the part of judges and juries of convicting the innocent. How this condition would be remedied by limiting the power of the press is not easily answerable. While it is true that some newspapers play up the salacious to a disgusting degree, this is not true with the vast majority, which have as their only view the presentation of the facts, clear and accurate, of what is transpiring in American courtrooms. And this the public has a right to know.

One thing needed to guarantee a stable government is a reasonable amount of horse sense.

If it were true that exercise always makes the muscles grow, some folks tongues would have to find a larger lodging place.

Owing to a pressure of public business, Mr. Coolidge will probably not be able to announce his position with reference to the Klan before the elections in Maine.

The Republican slogan "Keep cool with Coolidge" was all right for hot weather but by November a majority of the voters may decide they can keep cool without Coolidge.

It's threshing time with the American voter. He has two months left in which to separate the chaff from the grain and he will be surprised to see what a stack of chaff he has when he gets through.

Four million matches a day is America's match consumption, very nearly four times as much per capita as the European consumption. And this per capita estimate of 37 a day shortly will increase for election is coming and the ubiquitous politician who wastes match after match relighting his cigar while expounding some dark secret of the opposition soon will be with us again.

Whereas it had been thought that descendants of those who came over on the Mayflower had reached the mark of several millions, the Triennial Congress of the Society of Mayflower descendants comes out to inform us that there are 5,077 descendants living in the United States today. And even this is a gain over the figures brought out at the last session three years ago! It might, in the future, be best for the society not to be too specific, for it seems to be the heritage of every good American to be able to point back to Mayflower ancestry without fear of contradiction.

28,500 Vacant Farm Houses

Official Report Shows 55,000 Men Moved From Country To Town Last Year.

Jefferson City, Mo., Sept. 8.—As a result of the general movement from country to town, there are at present 28,500 farm houses unoccupied in Missouri, according to a survey of the situation just completed by Jewell Mayes and E. A. Logan of the Federal-State Crop Reporting Bureau here.

During the last year, the report shows 55,000 men left Missouri farms while only 32,000 moved to the country. Of those going from the farms, 32,000, or fifty-eight per cent, were married men, while 23,000 were single men, the report further shows. The net loss of hired farm workers was 2,000 and the exodus from the rural sections continues.

In Northwest and Southeast Missouri the married farmers who have moved off of the farms have been largely replaced by others moving in, but this condition does not apply to unmarried men. Nearly all of the counties of the South Central part of the state show a heavy exodus, while several counties in the Central section show the same report about the same condition.

The lowest percentages of farm migration are found in those counties where farm crop yields are highest. Counties which show little change from the usual conditions are Atchison, Harrison, Caldwell, Clinton, Gentry, Platte, Grundy, and Jackson. While Pemiscot is hiring more farm help than ever. Conditions are practically normal, and in some cases better than normal, in Southeast Missouri where cotton has displaced wheat as a major crop.

Many men leave the farms, the report says, to go to the cities to work in manufacturing enterprises and many have gone to work on highway construction jobs. Furthermore, it continues, there is a considerable movement of country people from one country community to another.

Officials of the Board of Agriculture expressed the opinion that the thinning out of farm population will continue until farm prices advance and manufactured goods decline and that the decrease in the number of people on farms will do much to bring about a better economic condition.

MOVING PICTURES

EMPIRE THEATER.

Strongheart, the wonder dog, is scheduled for an appearance at the Empire Theater Monday and Tuesday nights of this week. In his latest First National picture, "The Love Master," it derives its title from the fact that in this play Strongheart selects his own master without regard to who has legal title to him.

The story is laid in the sparsely settled regions of Canada and centers about the mystery of the young man who has arrived with Strongheart and ends with the solution of the mystery and the love victory of the young belle of the settlement along with the boy from the States.

Common Sense.

Was it common sense or common honesty in government that dictated the appointment of C. Blasco Slomp as Coolidge's secretary?

100,000 Hudson-Essex Cars Sold for 1924

First of the big motor companies to better the volume of 1923 business, the Hudson Motor Car Company has produced and sold its 100,000th car for 1924. This compares with 88,188 Hudson and Essex cars for all of 1923. The 100,000th car was an Essex Coach.

With Hudson and Essex coaches comprising seventy-five per cent of the entire business, Hudson has enjoyed a banner year. It is now the first six-cylinder manufacturer to reach the six figure market in production for the year, and one of the very few manufacturers whose 1924 business has been consistently better than the 1923 volume.

From present indications the sale of Hudson Super-Sixes this year will be about thirty-five per cent better than last year, and the sale of the Essex Six will be twice that of the 1923 popular four cylinder model.

Hudson Essex sales have been large this year without the Company having adopted any sensational selling effort and without any doling up or mechanical complication of the cars. The volume has been obtained primarily on the grounds of closed car comforts at open car costs. Since July 1st balloon tires have been standard equipment.

Fall Attempts to Halt Another Investigation

Says Living Costs Is One Issue of Campaign

La Follette Addresses Representatives of Organized Labor at Political Meeting in Washington.

Washington, Sept. 8.—Addressing representatives of organized labor at a political meeting here today, Senator Robert M. La Follette, independent presidential candidate, said that one of the fundamental issues of the campaign is the high cost of living as it was in 1912 when Woodrow Wilson defined it.

Another issue, he declared, is whether the American people are strong enough to repossess themselves of the governmental rights designed for them.

La Follette said living costs had steadily mounted since 1917 and were "artificially increased by the high tariff wall and the strengthening of corporations."

"Shall the American people," he demanded, "continue to be subjected to the control of special interests which crack the whip in the corridors of the hotels, swagger in the White House, dictate appointments in the cabinet, and control the markets of the country?"

Ed Corwin met with a serious accident at the Strickler ranch last Saturday afternoon while helping fix a pump. The pump had been lifted from the well and in some way the pipe wrench allowed the pump to slip while in the air ten or fifteen feet, catching the left hand of Mr. Corwin on the tile, mashing it horribly. Dr. Kirk was called and at once rushed the injured man to the Maryville hospital where he is doing as well as could be expected. It is believed it will not be necessary to amputate the hand unless blood poisoning sets in but it will never be a good hand again as the joints are injured to such an extent to make them stiff if the hand is saved.

A Riot of Color in Parisian Dress

Alice Langelier Says All the Latest for Women Have Many Brilliant Colors.

By ALICE LANGELIER.

Paris, Sept. 8.—Color runs riot over all the new creations coming from the big designers of the Rue de la Paix. It would seem that they had all got together and decided that the winter season be as gay as possible, and, if bright frocks have anything to do with it, it surely will be.

Black has finally been sent to the background. In only a few collections is it to be seen, and then always touched up with the brightest of tints. Gormaine is using not a little ombre black, brown and blue, but always in conjunction with vivid shades of red, orange and purple in contrasting fabric or in embroidery. A stunning model in black satin is cut like the allover apron of a little girl and embroidered in front with lines of gold terminating in diamonds of orange and gold, with a two inch band of orange tipping with gold the edges of the whole tunic.

There are gorgeous colors and brilliant combinations at the English house of Reifern. An ensemble called "Moulin Rouge" is a sheath gown of Chinese red kasha, belted with lizard and covered with an ample coat of large red and yellow plaid. To wear with it comes a little hat of the lizard. A sensational evening dress has a feather flounce and feather sleeves in vivid flame color. Jade green is one of the favorite shades of this house and on all the dresses there is wonderful trimming of bright ribbons, furs and fringes.

Paul Caret is showing a scarlet, crepe gown fitted closely to the curve of the back and has a sash-like bow, with two long fringes of uncurled ostrich for the bow ends. A sheath-gown of green and gold lame uses the V-shaped pattern of the gown, while meeting the points of the V's are gored panels of uncurled ostrich.

Lelong is showing wonderful materials, trimmed with glistening spangles, and embroideries which look like water on which sunlight is playing. A dark rich coat of purple velvet is lined with silver and worn over a gown of delicate orchid shades. A gay little geranium velvet is embroidered at the side with one big rose, in the heart of which are sparkling diamond dewdrops. He is very fond of metal cloths and bright Spanish embroideries for evening.

Bright colored velvets are to the front for afternoon frocks. Lelong favors Chinese red, and the Chinese influence is carried out in embroideries in gold and sometimes only fine thin lines about the neck and tunic, which has a decidedly mandarin cut. Purple and carmine are often combined, and willow green is a favorite with several of the large designers.

Two football games were definitely scheduled for the Spoofhound team of the Maryville High School by Harold G. Ebert, coach, at a meeting of the coaches of the high schools of the Northwest Missouri H. S. Athletic Association at the Robidoux Hotel, St. Joseph, last Saturday afternoon.

Four games were drawn for the local High School, Fairfax, Lafayette and Benton of St. Joseph and Mound City. Mound City will not play here at Maryville and Benton High of St. Joseph had a date already arranged so these two schools forfeited their games to the Maryville High School.

Hits Prince of Wales Right on Jaw.

GEORGE MASON

Here is one man who has punched the Prince of Wales smack on the jaw—and got away with it. He is George Mason, former English featherweight boxer, now in charge of the ship's gymnasium on the liner Berengaria, with whom the Prince boxed on his way to America. Mason said the Prince was only a fair boxer.

The only certain conference games for the Spoofhounds at the present time are Fairfax here on September 26, and Lafayette High School of St. Joseph, there on October 17.

Coach Ebert arranged other games, however, while at St. Joseph Saturday. Stanberry will be an opponent of Ebert's men on October 3. Whether the game will be played here or at Stanberry will be determined in the near future. Coach Ebert said that October 24 is open and will remain so. Savannah is another non-conference game, to be played on the home gridiron.

Northwest Missouri Athletic Association is divided into four sub-districts. The teams in sub-district in which Maryville is located include Maryville, Lafayette, Robidoux and Benton High Schools of St. Joseph, Mound City, Tarkio, Fairfax, Rock Port and King City. Howard Leech, coach of the Rock Port team, was at the meeting Saturday and stated that his team would not compete for the championship and he desired to arrange a schedule independent of the drawings made at the meeting Saturday. The coaches went into session at the Robidoux Hotel at 2 o'clock in the afternoon behind locked doors.

Coach Ebert explained this noon that the dates in November, the 1st, 7th, 14th and 21st, were left open so the championship of the sub-district, the semi-final and final games of the entire district could be arranged after the conference games were played in October. These dates must be left open, according to the conference rules. The Thanksgiving game will be scheduled later on, Turkey Day coming on November 27 this year. The championship game of the district must be played by the last Saturday before Thanksgiving.

Maysville or Tarkio will be scheduled for October 10, and probably play here, as neither team has a game yet for this date, Coach Ebert said today.

Giants Take Firmer Hold on League Flag

Washington Loses to Boston While New York Drops a Game to Philadelphia.

The Giants by defeating Brooklyn yesterday took a firmer hold on the National League pennant while the Washington Senators slipped down the percentage a few points by losing to Boston. New York won 8 to 7 after the score was tied in the eighth inning. Washington lost by a 6 to 2 score, the Bostonians scoring enough runs in the first inning to insure a victory.

Other American League games: New York lost to Philadelphia in the ninth inning 1 to 2 and Detroit defeated Cleveland 8 to 7. Percentages: Washington .582; New York .567; Detroit .547; and St. Louis .518. In National League Cincinnati took a double-header from Pittsburgh 4 to 1 and 4 to 3. Standings of National League leaders: New York .607; Brooklyn .599; Pittsburgh .591; and Cincinnati .540.

In the American Association St. Paul leads Indianapolis by a scant one point margin, .571 to .570, with Louisville and Milwaukee trailing at .546 and .519.

It is estimated by the Wichita Beacon that the handshaking from one election would milk every cow in the United States twice.

Thomas Cunningham, 65 years, dropped dead in the Vogt produce house at Conception Junction about 11 o'clock this morning. Mr. Cunningham had left Maryville on the Wabash passenger train No. 12 and was on his way to Parnell. While waiting for his train at Conception Junction for Parnell, Mr. Cunningham stopped in the produce house to visit and died at once.

The body will be brought to Maryville this evening and funeral arrangements will not be made until word is received from his daughter, Mrs. Hazel McAuliffe at Craigville, Alberta, Canada.

Mr. Cunningham was born in Kilar, County Donegal, Ireland. He came to this country in about 1870 and located in Maryville in about 1872. He sold goods all over the country, traveling with a pack. He was married to Miss Bridgett Gallagher. Her death occurred about twenty-five years ago. She was a sister of John, Felix and Ed Gallagher, living east of town. Mr. Cunningham is survived by a daughter, Mrs. McAuliffe.

Mr. Cunningham had just returned several days ago from a trip of about three months with his daughter in Canada and also from a sight-seeing tour there. He had been in bad health the past two years.

Water Makes a Good
Test at College Lab.*Is Becoming Free of the Taste and Odor That Was So Noticeable
Last Week.

The chemists at the College in making the last weekly test of the city water, on September 4, pronounced that it made a most satisfactory, according to the results of the test.

It was pronounced to have no gas, no acid and only sixty-five bacteria count per cubic centimeter, which is a low count. J. W. Qualls, superintendent of the City Water Department, said this morning. This is the second test, since the water has been tested every week at the College laboratory, that has reached the count of sixty-five bacteria to a cubic centimeter. All the other tests made in the last eight months have been below thirty and some as low as twenty.

Mr. Qualls said this morning that the water is being rid of the odor and taste that was noticeable last week. The water in the reservoirs is being aerated by the winds that stir the water and keeps it from being stale. The water now used is being pumped direct from the river but it takes a little time for the water in the pipes to clear up, Mr. Qualls said.

These addresses have been delivered at various programs—church, community, commencement and others. Dr. Keller delivered fifteen high school commencement addresses this last spring. He received a number of other requests which he was unable to fill.

TILLERS OF LAND
MUST HAVE LIVING*TARIFF CAN NO LONGER DELUGE
FARM POPULATION.SCORES FOREIGN POLICY"Administration Cannot Claim Credit
For Dawes Plan When it Would Not Accept Responsibility."

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 8.—Honesty in government—such honesty as will reach down through every nook and cranny of the governing structure and see that every man has a square deal was the central theme of the speech on agriculture delivered by John W. Davis, democratic nominee for the presidency here Saturday night.

His speech was heard by the largest crowd that ever gathered at the Omaha auditorium for a political rally. It was announced by radio before the speaking began that the crowd numbered more than 8 thousand persons. The huge throng occupied all available space in the huge structure and overflowed into the streets. More than 2 thousand occupied the seats reserved for people from other sections of Nebraska and from Iowa.

The candidate, though declaring he had not been a farmer himself, said he had lived in a rural community for many years and gave this means for relief of present distressing conditions.

By honesty in government, he told his audience he meant the enactment and enforcement of such laws as will help those who have suffered. He declared further that he was not so sure that honest enforcement of some laws that now exist would not go far to help conditions.

"The problem is," he declared "is the last analysis, not one of statistics, but of human lives."

"There is no duty which the government can be called upon to perform more pressing or more sacred than to so organize the economic life of America that American citizens can earn on their farms a living in keeping with American needs and American traditions."

Readjust the Balance.
The policy of the democratic party, he said a little farther on, is to readjust the balance and put agriculture where it belongs—on an equality with industry."

Mr. Davis touched upon the unjust method of deflation whereby the west had been made to suffer so severely. He showed how the price parity between the farmer, products and industry had caused untold hardship. Such tactics, he said did not in his mind speak of honest government.

The tariff, Mr. Davis charged was used to delude the farmer.
"Surely the day when the farmer can be lulled to rest by a nominal tariff on the commodities of which he has a surplus to sell abroad has passed forever."

He scored the foreign policy of the United States under the Republican administration. "It is a reproach to the collective wisdom of mankind," he said, "that each year since 1920 there have been from one to two hundred million people in Europe underfed and undernourished and other millions literally starving while during the same period America's storehouses of food stuffs and raw materials have been vainly seeking a market at reasonable prices."

Far from obtaining any capital from the adoption of the Dawes report, Mr. Davis charged it laid a crushing blow upon this country that the good effect if any from it have been delayed so long.

Scores Proposed Relief Plan.

Mr. Davis scored the proposed relief for the farmer through commissions. The system has been tried he said, and through numerous delays, it has brought no results. The farmer will refuse to be longer fooled, he asserted.

Presenting the democratic plan for farmer relief as set out in the party platform, Mr. Davis called attention to the fact that it was made up both of administration and legislation.

"According to my view," he said, "the responsibility for providing such an administration rests upon the shoulders of him who is chosen to be president of the United States."

"It is his business," he declared, "when mistakes in selection are made, to be prompt in their correction. He need not wait for congressional committees or grand juries to point them out; nor can he or the party that he leads escape responsibility on the plea of general good character or fair intent. It is his business to give the people a government honest all the way through."

DAVIS WILL MAKE FURTHER ATTACKS*"HONESTY IN GOVERNMENT" IS PARAMOUNT.*TO STUDY PROBLEMS*Democratic Candidate Greeted Far
West With Demand for "Blocless Government." Serving All Alike.

Denver, Sept. 8.—John W. Davis, democratic presidential nominee reached here today to study at first hand problems of the mountain West before offering to the nation his personal program of conservation and reclamation.

Davis greeted the far West with the demand for a "blocless government," serving all citizens alike, and the declaration that he would continue to make "honesty in government" his paramount issue.

"I came here more to learn than to teach," Davis said. "I want to mingle with the people of the West to find out their problems and inform myself about the things they expect from their government."

"What we need in this country is a government that is honest from the ground up and that is not directed in the interest of any particular part of the United States. This government has been dominated for fifty years past, with the exception of the Democratic administrations, by an industrial bloc that has managed the policies of the nation for its own peculiar interests. I want the day to come when no bloc will control this government and when it will be run in the interest of us all alike."

Davis left this afternoon for Rocky Mountain National Park, sixty miles northeast of here, to spend three days in seclusion writing his set speech to be delivered in the Denver auditorium on the night of September 11 and at Cheyenne, Wyo., on September 12.

It was learned definitely here that Mr. Davis will devote part of each speech to further criticisms of the agricultural program proposed by Charles C. Dawes, Republican vice-presidential candidate. Davis has decided, it was said, to treat the Dawes speech as an official pronouncement from the Republican administration.

Senator Key Pittman of Nevada, who is directing the Davis itinerary in the West, announced the Democratic standard bearer would make issues out of Dawes' declarations for the abandonment of all reclamation projects as a cure for agricultural ills.

Will Attend Meeting at Jeff. City Tuesday

George Robb Ellison left last night via St. Louis for Jefferson City to attend the organization meeting of the Democratic State Committee to be held tomorrow in Jefferson City. Mr. Ellison is a member of the state committee from the fourth congressional district.

At this meeting, the officers of the committee will be chosen. Joshua Barbee of Kansas City is slated for chairmanship of the Democratic committee.

Nominees of the Democratic party for state, congressional, judicial and legislative offices will meet in Jefferson City tomorrow with the members of the state committee for the task of drafting the state platform. The consensus of opinion of Democratic leaders and nominees who attended a preliminary conference at Jefferson City last Thursday was that the Klan would be denounced by name. Other planks to be presented to the Democratic convention for incorporation in the platform will deal with problems of the farmers, advocating reduced taxation, economy in government and good roads.

Will F. Phares, a member of the Republican State Committee, left last evening for Jefferson City to attend a meeting of the Republican state committee and candidates for the purpose of organizing the committee as well as to draft the state platform. On the eve of the convention the question of selecting a chairman for the Republican state committee apparently overshadows the fitting together of a Republican platform.

GEORGE BAKER AUTOIS FOUND YESTERDAY

Whether fate played against him or was his friend is the question that Francis Cummins is debating. Last Friday Francis Cummins drove George Baker's Jewett car to St. Joseph. About 7 o'clock Saturday night it was stolen, or disappeared from its parking place. The St. Joseph police were notified.

Cummins did not need their assistance, as about 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon he found the car parked along the curb on a St. Joseph street. Joyriders had evidently taken the car for a spin.

Mitchell Field, N. Y., Sept. 8.—The three around-the-world flyers, accompanied by an escort of thirteen airplanes, arrived here at 3:43 o'clock this afternoon from Boston where they hopped off at noon.

More than 5,000 persons were here to welcome them, including His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales, and General Pershing.

The military band in the grandstand started playing, "Stars and Stripes Forever" as the planes hovered over the flying field preparatory to landing.

It is doubtful if the world flyers ever had such an audience as that which witnessed their arrival in New York. Every vantage point in the metropolis and its environs an hour before the flyers sped like sparrows into the city.

Work was at a standstill in most business places when the twentieth century Magellans soared into view.

SPREADING THE BIBLE.

A statement by Dr. John H. Ritson, secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society, conveys the information that there are people speaking 1,000 different languages who have not yet had the Bible translated into their mother tongue. He further states that a great corps of translators is constantly at work engaged in making the Bible available to users of these thus far neglected tongues.

Dr. Ritson is engaged in a commendable work. In addition to the good which Christian people believe a better knowledge of the Bible will do those not now acquainted with it there is the value of the Bible from an educational standpoint to be considered. Translating the Bible into various dialects of these little known peoples will do much to standardize their language and make intercourse with them vastly easier. The only doubt which comes to mind is whether it would not be better to work for the further spread of a universal tongue, or pending the day when that is devised, to work for the spread of some of the more widely used languages in order that these tribes may read the Bible in English, French or German rather than in their native tongue.

SHUTTING OFF NEWS.

The Chicago Tribune recently expressed the opinion that too much publicity to crimes and persons accused but untried is being given by the American press. The paper suggested the enactment of laws limiting the freedom of the press in such instances and forbidding publications making more than a very brief mention of the crime until the person accused has been haled into court.

The proposal is not new and it has been studied by foremost journalists the country over for years. These journalists even have gone so far as to sound out newspaper sentiment in the matter. The result has been an overwhelming opinion that the present method of full publicity is best, not from the standpoint of feeding the great maw of news, but because it brings before the public the flaws in our present system of jurisprudence which otherwise would be passed by unnoticed.

Eminent American lawyers and jurists admit that criminal procedure in this country is badly in need of a radical shaking up. There is, apparently, too much fear on the part of judges and juries of convicting the innocent. How this condition would be remedied by limiting the power of the press is not easily answerable. While it is true that some newspapers play up the salacious to a disgusting degree, this is not true with the vast majority, which have as their only view the presentation of the facts, clear and accurate, of what is transpiring in American courtrooms. And this the public has a right to know.

One thing needed to guarantee a stable government is a reasonable amount of horse sense.

If it were true that exercise always makes the muscles grow, some folks' tongues would have to find a larger lodging place.

Owing to a pressure of public business, Mr. Coolidge will probably not be able to announce his position with reference to the Klan before the elections in Maine.

The Republican slogan "Keep cool with Coolidge" was all right for hot weather but by November a majority of the voters may decide they can keep cool without Coolidge.

It's threshing time with the American voter. He has two months left in which to separate the chaff from the grain and he will be surprised to see what a stack of chaff he has when he gets through.

Four million matches a day is America's match consumption, very nearly four times as much per capita as the European consumption. And this per capita estimate of 37 a day shortly will increase for election is coming and the ubiquitous politician who wastes match after match relighting his cigar while expounding some dark secret of the opposition soon will be with us again.

Whereas it had been thought that descendants of those who came over on the Mayflower had reached the mark of several millions, the Triennial Congress of the Society of Mayflower descendants comes out to inform us that there are 5,077 descendants living in the United States today. And even this is a gain over the figures brought out at the last session three years ago! It might, in the future, be best for the society not to be too specific, for it seems to be the heritage of every good American to be able to point back to Mayflower ancestry without fear of contradiction.

28,500 Vacant

Farm Houses

Official Report Shows 55,000 Men
Moved From Country To Town
Last Year.

Jefferson City, Mo., Sept. 8.—As a result of the general movement from country to town, there are at present 28,500 farm houses unoccupied in Missouri, according to a survey of the situation just completed by Jewell Mayes and E. A. Logan of the Federal-State Crop Reporting Bureau here.

During the last year, the report shows 55,000 men left Missouri farms while only 32,000 moved to the country. Of those going from the farms, 32,000, or fifty-eight per cent, were married men, while 23,000 were single men, the report further shows. The net loss of hired farm workers was 2,000 and the exodus from the rural sections continues.

In Northwest and Southeast Missouri the married farmers who have moved off of the farms have been largely replaced by others moving in, but this condition does not apply to unmarried men. Nearly all of the counties of the South Central part of the state show a heavy exodus, while several counties in the Central section show the same report about the same condition.

The lowest percentages of farm migration are found in those counties where farm crop yields are highest. Counties which show little change from the usual conditions are Atchison, Harrison, Caldwell, Clinton, Gentry, Platte, Grundy, and Jackson, while Pemiscot is hiring more farm help than ever. Conditions are practically normal, and in some cases better than normal, in Southeast Missouri where cotton has displaced wheat as a major crop.

Many men leave the farms, the report says, to go to the cities to work in manufacturing enterprises and many have gone to work on highway construction jobs. Furthermore, it continues, there is a considerable movement of country people from one country community to another.

Officials of the Board of Agriculture expressed the opinion that the thinning out of farm population will continue until farm prices advance and manufactured goods decline and that the decrease in the number of people on farms will do much to bring about a better economic condition.

MOVING

EMPIRE THEATER.

Strongheart, the wonder dog, is scheduled for an appearance at the Empire Theater Monday and Tuesday nights of this week. In his latest First National picture, "The Love Master," it derives its title from the fact that in this play Strongheart selects his own master without regard to who has legal title to him.

The story is laid in the sparsely settled regions of Canada and centers about the mystery of the young man who has arrived with Strongheart and ends with the solution of the mystery and the love victory of the young belle of the settlement along with the boy from the States.

Common Sense.

Was it common sense or common honesty in government that dictated the appointment of C. Blasco Slemper as Coolidge's secretary?

The Difference.

The Democrats want their party's record remembered; the Republicans want their party's record forgotten.—Davis.

Expurgating Dawes.

Vice-presidential candidate Dawes punctuates his informal remarks with many "Dawes." But there is no hard and fast rule for punctuation, so the Republican papers omit the cuss words.

"Lumberman Has Nine-pound Boy," says a headline. Figure it out for yourself.

Mothers!

Give the children WRIGLEY'S
after every meal

A prominent physician says:

"It is surprising how free from decay the teeth can be kept by using gum after each meal."

You know how hard it is to get the children to clean their teeth. By giving them WRIGLEY'S you not only reward them for cleaning their teeth, but the reward is actually the means of performing this important service!

WRIGLEY'S aids digestion too, and acts as an anti-

100,000 Hudson-Essex Cars Sold for 1924

First of the big motor companies to better the volume of 1923 business, the Hudson Motor Car Company has produced and sold its 100,000th car for 1924. This compares with 88,188 Hudson and Essex cars for all of 1923. The 100,000th car was an Essex Coach.

With Hudson and Essex coaches comprising seventy-five per cent of the entire business, Hudson has enjoyed a banner year. It is now the first six-cylinder manufacturer to reach the six figure market in production for the year, and one of the very few manufacturers whose 1924 business has been consistently better than the 1923 volume.

From present indications the sale of Hudson Super-Sixes this year will be about thirty-five per cent better than last year, and the sale of the Essex Six will be twice that of the 1923 popular four cylinder model.

Hudson Essex sales have been large this year without the Company having adopted any sensational selling effort and without any doling up or mechanical complication of the cars. The volume has been obtained primarily on the grounds of closed car comforts at open car costs. Since July 1st balloon tires have been standard equipment.

Fall Attempts to Halt Another Investigation

Grand Jury Would Start New Probe of Activities of Former Secretary of the Interior.

Washington, Sept. 8.—Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of Interior, who is under indictment here for alleged conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with oil lease transactions in California and Wyoming, took steps today to halt a new grand jury investigation of his activities while a member of the cabinet.

Says Living Costs Is One Issue of Campaign

La Follette Addresses Representatives of Organized Labor at Political Meeting in Washington.

Washington, Sept. 8.—Addressing representatives of organized labor at a political meeting here today, Senator Robert M. La Follette, independent presidential candidate, said that one of the fundamental issues of the campaign is the high cost of living as it was in 1912 when Woodrow Wilson defeated it.

Another issue, he declared, is whether the American people are strong enough to repossess themselves of the governmental rights designed for them.

La Follette said living costs had steadily mounted since 1917 and were "artificially increased by the high tariff wall and the strengthening of corporations."

"Shall the American people," he demanded, "continue to be subjected to the control of special interests which crack the whip in the corridors of the hotels, swagger in the White House, dictate appointments in the cabinet, and control the markets of the country?"

Ed Corwin met with a serious accident at the Strickler ranch last Saturday afternoon while helping fix a pump. The pump had been lifted from the well and in some way the pipe wrench allowed the pump to slip while in the air ten or fifteen feet, catching the left hand of Mr. Corwin on the tile, mashing it horribly. Dr. Kirk was called and at once rushed the injured man to the Maryville hospital where he is doing as well as could be expected. It is believed it will not be necessary to amputate the hand unless blood poisoning sets in but it will never be a good hand again as the joints are injured to such an extent to make them stiff if the hand is saved.

A Riot of Color in Parisian Dress

Alice Langelier Says All the Latest for Women Have Many Brilliant Colors.

By ALICE LANGELIER.

Paris, Sept. 8.—Color runs riot over all the new creations coming from the big designers of the Rue de la Paix. It would seem that they had all got together and decided that the winter season be as gay as possible, and, if bright frocks have anything to do with it, it surely will be.

Black has finally been sent to the background. In only a few collections is it to be seen, and then always touched up with the brightest of tints. Germane is using not a little combed black, brown and blue, but always in conjunction with vivid shades of red, orange and purple in contrasting fabric or in embroidery. A stunning model in black satin is cut like the allover apron of a little girl and embroidered in front with lines of gold terminating in diamonds of orange and gold, with a two inch band of orange tipping with gold the edges of the whole tunic.

There are gorgeous colors and brilliant combinations at the English house of Redfern. An ensemble called "Moulin Rouge" is a sheath gown of Chinese red kasha, belted with lizard and covered with an ample coat of large red and yellow plaid. To wear with it comes a little hat of the lizard. A sensational evening dress has a feather flounce and feather sleeves in vivid flame color. Jade green is one of the favorite shades of this house and on all the dresses there is wonderful trimming of bright ribbons, furs and fringes.

Paul Caret is showing a scarlet crepe gown fitted closely to the curve of the back and has a sash-like bow, with two long fringes of uncurled ostrich for the bow ends. A sheath gown of green and gold lame uses the V-shaped pattern of the gown, while meeting the points of the V's are golden panels of uncurled ostrich.

Lelong is showing wonderful materials, trimmed with glistening spangles, and embroideries which look like water on which sunlight is playing. A dark rich coat of purple velvet is lined with silver and worn over a gown of delicate orchid shades. A gay little geranium velvet is embroidered at the side with one big rose, in the heart of which are sparkling diamond dewdrops. He is very fond of metal cloths and bright Spanish embroideries for evening.

Bright colored velvets are to the front for afternoon frocks. Lelief favors Chinese red, and the Chinese influence is carried out in embroideries in gold and sometimes only fine thin lines about the neck and tunic, which has a decidedly mandarin cut. Purple and carmine are often combined, and willow green is a favorite with several of the large designers.

Hits Prince of Wales Right on Jaw.

GEORGE MASON

Here is one man who has punched the Prince of Wales smack on the jaw—and got away with it. He is George Mason, former English featherweight boxer, now in charge of the ship's gymnasium on the liner Berengaria, with whom the Prince boxed on his way to America. Mason said the Prince was only a fair boxer.

The only certain conference games for the Spoofhounds at the present time are Fairfax here on September 26, and Lafayette High School of St. Joseph, there on October 17.

Coach Ebert arranged other games, however, while at St. Joseph Saturday. Stanberry will be an opponent of Ebert's men on October 3. Whether the game will be played here or at Stanberry will be determined in the near future. Coach Ebert said that October 24 is open and will remain so. Savannah is another non-conference game, to be played on the home gridiron.

Northwest Missouri Athletic Association is divided into four sub-districts. The teams in sub-district in which Maryville is located include Maryville, Lafayette, Robidoux and Benton High Schools of St. Joseph, Mound City, Tarkio, Fairfax, Rock Port and King City. Howard Leech, coach of the Rock Port team, was at the meeting Saturday and stated that his team would not compete for the championship and he desired to arrange a schedule independent of the drawings made at the meeting Saturday. The coaches went into session at the Robidoux Hotel at 2 o'clock in the afternoon behind locked doors.

Coach Ebert explained this noon that the dates in November, the 1st, 7th, 14th and 21st, were left open so the championship of the sub-district, the semi-final and final games of the entire district could be arranged after the conference games were played in October. These dates must be left open, according to the conference rules. The Thanksgiving game will be scheduled later on, Turkey Day coming on November 27 this year. The championship game of the district must be played by the last Saturday before Thanksgiving.

Giants Take Firmer Hold on League Flag

Washington Loses to Boston While New York Drops a Game to Philadelphia.

The Giants by defeating Brooklyn yesterday took a firmer hold on the National League pennant while the Washington Senators slipped down the percentage a few points by losing to Boston. New York won 8 to 7 after the score was tied in the eighth inning. Washington lost by a 6 to 2 score, the Bostonians scoring enough runs in the first inning to insure a victory.

Other American League games: New York lost to Philadelphia in the ninth inning 1 to 2 and Detroit defeated Cleveland 8 to 7. Percentages: Washington .582; New York .567; Detroit .547; and St. Louis .518. In National League Cincinnati took a double-header from Pittsburgh 4 to 1 and 4 to 3. Standings of National League leaders: New York .607; Brooklyn .599; Pittsburgh .591; and Cincinnati .540.

In the American Association St. Paul leads Indianapolis by a scant one point margin, .571 to .570, with Louisville and Milwaukee trailing at .546 and .519.

It is estimated by the Wichita Beacon that the handshaking from one election would milk every cow in the United States twice.

This is such an excellent crop year that there are those who feel even the wild oats harvest will be larger than usual, slyly remarks the Oklahoma City Times.
